MID-YEAR GRAD. OF 1919 GIVE SPLENDID CLASS PLAY

Crowded House Greets Students And Enjoy A Most Excellent Presentation

COMEDY WILL BE REPEATED

The initial event in the series of mid-year commencement activities occurred at the high school auditorium, last evening, when the three-act comedy, "The Arrival of Kitty," was presented by the members of the Class of '19 to a crowded house. The performance was a pronounced success, comprising most favorably with productions of previous years, and the large audience manifested its approval of the work of the various participants in loud and continued applause.

The different characters were well portrayed, the work of Allison Lowstuter as "Bobby Baxter," Raymond Sphar as "Ting," Jules Monack as "Sam," the colored porter, Grace Anderson as "Jane," and Ellen Clark as "Aunt Jane," being deserving of more than passing mention. Christopher Mogan, Jr., surprised his many friends by his clever impersonation of the part of "Benjamin More." Eugene Byrne as "William Winkler," Anne Stephens as "Suzette" and Ethel Goldsmith as "Kitty," also did the work allotted them in a most satisfactory manner. In fact, the efforts of all conduced to a performance of unusual excellence, and one and all alike, are deserving of a high measure of praise. Mrs. Ada T Hill teacher of English and Latin, under whose direction the play was given, is entitled to considerable credit for the general excellence of the preesentation.

At the conclusion of the play, the members of the class, nineteen in number, assembled on the stage, and the usual exercises, incidental to class night, were indulged in. Valera Cocain and Sara Grimes were the donors, and each made a suitable present to the members of the class, the gift being accompanied by poetical effusions which recounted some of the individual qualifications of the recipients. Kenneth Hill, president of the graduating class in well-chosen words, consigned to the care of Harold Stech, president of the Mid-Year Class of 1920, the ladder, the class's emblem, decorated with its colors, and he responded in appropriate terms. The "Class Knocker," Noah Jones, paid his respects to a number of persons, not forgetting the efficient janitor of the high school, "Andy" Murray, whom he charged with "acting as though he paid the coal bill of the institution, judging from the manner in which he tried to freeze out the pupils, in his mad desire to conserve coal." Kelly Perry, as class historian, from the time of its entrance into high school to the time of graduation. One of the most interesting features of the programme was the work of the cartoonist, Virginia Zellars. This popular member of the class displayed an aptness as a wielder of crayons which drew forth most favorable comment.

The concluding number was the relegation to the flames of an improvised fire, by each member of the class, of the German text book used by them, there being no further need for same in the curriculum of the high school. The singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" terminated the exercises.

The high school orchestra, under the direction of Prof. I. T. aniel, furnished the evening's musical programme in its usually efficient manner.

In obedience to the request of those who failed to secure seats for this performance, it has been decided to repeat the play on Friday evening, March 14. The reservation of seats will be held at the high school building, beginning at half past three o'clock, next Wednesday afternoon.

RECEIVE FINE AND THREE MONTHS TO JAIL

Frank Alter and Arthur Wiliams, the young men arrested early last Sunday morning for sending in a false fire alarm, and who were sent over to court Wednesday morning, entered a plea of guilty before the court thesame afternoon. They were sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and the costs of prosecution, and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months. While this is a severe sentence, yet the court deemed it justified in the view of the character of the offense.

$40,000 FIRE AT THE NEWELL PLANT

The coke crushing plant of the General Chemical company at Newell, Pa., Wednesday night, entailed aloss of about $40,000. It is believed the fire was caused by cross electric wiress. For a time the muriatic acid plant, where high explosives are manufactured,was in considerable danger, but the wind fortunately was blowing in an opposite direction which was in favor of the firemen, and gave them a better chance to confine the blaze to the coke crushing building. The scales of the Lake Erie railroad company, near by, were saved by the efforts of the railroad men, who assisted the fire department on the local plant. The building destroyed was of frame construction with a corrugated iron roof.

Must Not Wait For The Income Tax Man

A person who waits for an Income Tax man to pull his door-bell or his coat tails may find himself a delinquent subject to severe penalties, is the warning sounded today by the Internal Revenue Bureau officials. The duty of getting the payments and the returns in by March 15th lies solely with each individual and corporation liable under the law.

"The Bureau has sent every man it can spare directly to the people to aid in an advisory capacity," said Commissioner Roper. "But our men have no time to canvass people at work or in their homes. Every person liable to a tax or a return must take the initiative in performing the duties required by the Revenue law. If he needs information, blank forms, or advice, he should seek an Income Tax officer.

"The big thing now in Income Tax is to get the first payments in between now and March 15th. That is the due date, under the new law. Frankly speaking, the Government needs the money to meet its obligations falling due on that date.

"The returns of 1918 Income Tax are due at the same time. Either a complete return showing the true tax or a tentative return of the estimated tax, must accompany each and every payment made between now and March 15th.

The tentative return of estimated tax is a relief measure adopted by the Bureau for taxpayers who cannot complete their full returns on time. A tax payer who needs additional time for making a return cannot be relieved of the payment of the tax due, or the estimated tax due. But, on making the required payment between now and March 15th, the taxpayer can secure further time up to 45 days in which to file the complete return.

"The Bureau in this way meets the convenience of taxpayers who are pressed for time, but itcannot relieve them of the requirements that their taxes due on March 15th must be paid between now and the due date.

"It is urged that every taxpayer who can do so make payment in full when filing his return. This method will greatly aid the Revenue offices, and relieve the taxpayer of the necessity of guarding against oversight in future installment dates.

"In each case where payment in full is not made, the first payment must be at least one-fourth of the total tax due, or at least, one-fourth of the estimated tax due. No matter which of these methods is used in payment of taxes due March 15, the payment must actually be in the Collector's office by the due date, accompanied by a return."

CORONER JURY VERDICT EXONERATES MOTORMAN

The coroner's jury called to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of Motorman John Krause in the street car accident near the Eldora stop last Monday afternoon, met this morning at 10 o'clock at the Frye morgue, where the inquest was held under the direction of Coroner James Heffran. After examining a number of witnesses the jury returned the following verdict:—

"We, the jury, find that John Krause came to his death at the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital, Feb. 4, from a fractured skull, as the result of being crushed by a collision between a passenger car, on which he was at work as a motorman, and a freight car on the Charleroi Division, February 4, near Eldora stop.

"We further find the accident was due to the failure of Wm. Allshouse, motorman of the freight car, to properly protect his car as provided in the rule book, due to a lack of knowledge of operating said freight car.

"We also believe the accident was due to confusion as to interpretation of rules, and for that reason we exonerate said Wm. Allshouse of criminal negligence."

COL. BARNETT MAY GET APPOINTMENT

After the expiration of his term Col. Barnett began the practice of law in Pittsburg. His home remains at Washington, Pa.

May Secure A Permanent Place of Meeting In Boro Building

ELECT SEVERAL NEW MEMBERS

The first meeting in several months of the Charleroi Business Men's Association was held Thursday evening at the Hotel Wilbur, with a splendid representation present. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock and at its conclusion the members adourned to the parlors where a considerable amount of business was transacted.

The first topic to engage the attention of the members was a permanent place of meeting. Atpresent the o rganization has no place to call its own, but has for some time been seeking a place where it would feel permanently located. It developed during the discussion that a room may be available in the new borough building w hen it is completed, H. L. Swickey, President of Council, saying that he believed it would be possible to give permanent quarters to the Association in the new structure.

The Secretary read a communication from the Challmor Company, of Oshkosh, Wis., which is seeking a location for a factory to manufacture non-skid motor tire chains. The Secretary was directed to get in communication with the firm, and point out the many advantages of Charleroi as a desirable place for the locating plant of this [illegible]

READING 1919 INTO 1776

The sentiment written by President Wilson for inscription on the monument to Lafayette to be erected in Baltimore reads as follows: "Lafayette, immortal because a self-forgetful servant of justice and humanity. Beloved by all Americans because he acknowledged no duty more sacred than to fight for the fredom of his fellow men."

This, though admirable in itself, is open to the objection that it tends to read the sentiment of 1919 into the sentiment of 1776. It cannot be doubted that Lafayette's generous heart could have been moved to sympathy for some other people struggling for independence, but it is with act rather than feeling that history is concerned. The great fact is that he helped the American colonies, and it is because his sentiment took this concrete form that his name has been cherished in America. From the beginning until now Americans have loved him because he helped them, not because he was capable of helping others. It may even be doubted whether Lafayette would have been as eager to enter the army of some other struggling people as he was to enter our. for by entering ours he not only struck for freedom but arrayed himself against the hereditary enemy of France. Marie Jean Paul Roch Yves Gilbert Motier, Marquis de Lafayette. was human. and we need not think any the less of him if he desired not only to help freedom-seeking Americans but to embarrass England with whoch country France had been at war off and on for a thousand years.

The War Department announces as the total number of deaths in the army from all cause 207,441, of which 72,951 occurred in the Expeditionary Forces. As these are not the final figures, further deaths from wounds, disease and accident being inevitable, it is manifest that the cost of the war in lives alone is to be no small matter.

The leopard can not change his spots nor the sly Hun cease his propaganda. The latter just now is determined that American soldiers shall return from the Rhineland partisans of Germany as against the rest of Europe and. in order to accomplish this, he appears to be even willing to wallow in a very mire of indecent self-abasement.

A part of the $5.000 paid conscientious objectors while serving their country in prison has been returned on the ground that it was not earned. The men who wouldn't take money for refusing to fight for Uncle Sam appear to be more level-headed than the government officials who handed it out to them.

The proofreader must have been napping when a leading Philadelphia newspaper announced the other day that the Rev. "Billy" Sunday would speak on the importance of including soldiers and sailorsto take astand for "Christmas living."

Much Wastage of Potatoes.

The annual potato crop of the United States is around 400 000 000 bushels Government statistics show that of this at least 75 000 000 bushels are lost. This wastage is due to the culls, rotting and freezing of potatoes in shipment and the lack of nearby markets

GETS JOB AS A FARM FOREMAN AT AGE OF 77

David Wogan. 77 years old farm foreman on the East View Farms. near Altoona, Pa. says:

"Like the tens of thousands of others I thought I would have to leave the hard work to the younger generation when I reached the alloted threescore and ten. The past few years I had been troubled considerably from stomach and kidney troubles. and I was beginning to think I would have to give way to the younger men. However. I left no stone unturned in my effort to regain my health. so when I heard about Tanlac I immediately obtained a bottle

"After taking this remarkable remedy. I feel like a youngster despite my 77 years. No longer do I suffer from indigestion after eating, I sleep just fine. My constipation, which had troubled me for years. is a thing of the past. Those stomach pains which used to catch me while at work no longer bother me. I can do a full day's work without feeling worn out and tired as formerly."

The genuine Tanlac bearing name J. I. Gore Co., is sold by Frank J. Dunn and Pipers Pharmacy.

Faint Praise.

Speaking of doubtful compliments, a subscriber writes: "I wish to offer the following as one of the best examples I have ever seen An accomplished musician was invited by a friend to a church service in order to hear the chorus choir render a special selection. Night Air Not Dangerous.

There is still a prejudice among some against night air. For that reason some foolish people sleep with their windows closed. Night air is not dangerous. On the average it is more pure than that of the day. In malarious sections exposure at night may be dangerous, not because the air is bad but because malarial mosquitoes bite only at night. The danger is in the mosquitoes, not the air.

Researches Show That Oldtime Entertainers Were by No Means Inadequately Rewarded.

Enormous salaries of actors today are looked upon as a modern innovation, growing with the development of the American millionaire and the imagination of the American press agent. Such is not the case, says Robert Mantell, who in his studies in the preparation of his classic repertoire has come across many bits of curious information, observes the Buffalo Express. The Roman actor Roscius, whose name has become synonymous with all that is marvelous in a player, earned a salary which, according to Mr. Mantell, puts that warm friend of Cicero quite in a class with Charlie Chaplin. Roscius drew about $160 daily in the money of his time, which had a purchasing power equivalent to nearly $1,600 in United States money, even without the aid of the war and the patriotism of the restaurant men. That brings his annual salary to the half-million mark. Another actor, the tragedian Aesopus, not to be confounded with the writer of fables, and who also was a friend of Cicero, received so great a salary that he left a vast fortune to his son. When Emperor Vespasian repaired the theater of Marcellus he gave the tragedian Apollinaris (whom a Winter garden comedian might dub "the father of waters") $20,000 to appear there, but the length of his services is not stated. To each of two harpists in the company, Terpinus and Diodorus, he gave $10,000, and no player received less than $2,000. In addition, he made the actors numerous special presents of money, always gold.

Coming down to more recent times and more modest amounts, but still comparable with salaries of today, David Garrick drew at the height of his popularity $250 a night. Macready in 1839, when he staged for the first time "Richelieu," was paid $125 a night, and Miss Ellen Tree, about the same period, drew the same salary.

DOG REFUSED TO STAY DEAD

Indianapolis Policeman Found He Had Not Done as Good a Job as He Thought.

Frank Finney, motor policeman, lost his reputation as a marksman the other day after he and his partner, Ben Lansing, had been called to the Coburn Storage and Warehouse company, 211 West Georgia street, to end the suffering of a dog that had been run over by an automobile.

Finney shot the dog, all right, the bullet apparently putting an end to the animal's suffering. In fact attaches of the warehouse officially pronounced the dog dead, and told the two motor policemen they could return to headquarters, as further services would not be needed.

A short time after the motor policemen returned, an attache of the warehouse telephoned to Captain Sanders and told him the dog apparently had "come to life again" and was trying to walk. Finney and Lansing were sent back to complete the job. The former, however, refused to take a hand in the affair, contending that he had killed it the first time, so Lansing was chosen as executioner, and the dog was really and finally killed.—Indianapolis News.

Doughboy Missed Treasure.

At Varennes they still show the place where the doughboy fainted.

For the greater part of a week he had been busy there at the humble tasks of general police when into his bailiwick burst an anxious French soldier, who explained that Varennes had been his home before the war, and that he had had to leave it hastily when the Germans came four years before.

After much explanation, he began to prospect about as though he were looking for oil, finally took his bearings, paced three to the right from the pharmacie, ten to the north, four to the east. Then he dug. He dug and he dug, and at last the doughboy saw—disinterred from the very spot where he had been puttering all week—the tidy sum of 20,000 francs in gold.

The Course of True Love.

"Clarence Spradd has had a spat with that 'ere plump Guggles girl," related Burt Blurt of Petunia. "He bought one of them there fashionable, thin-legged suits of clothes with a belt and a pucker in the back, and expected it would make him look like the swell young fellers in the advertising columns of the newspapers. And the Guggles girl said he looked more like a comic picture in another part of the same paper. He up and told her he'd rather be hung than to marry her, and she said she'd rather he would be."—Kansas City Star.

Can Opener Makes Good Needle.

Many cans used for packing meat and other food products are operated by means of a small handle or key, which has an eye for receiving a strip of tin and winding it up. These keys are always furnished with the can and usually thrown away as the can is opened. Should a large needle for sewing blankets or burlap be required, a splendid one may be made by straightening out one of these keys and filing the end down to a point.

Making Our Own Bronze Powder.

The United States industries use practically 6,000,000 pounds of bronze powder annually, and 35 per cent of the total consumption was formerly imported from Germany, but is now made in America.

NOW COMES THE FLYABOUT

Airplanes Seem to Bid Fair to Take the Place Now Held by the Chummy Roadster.

There was a time, and not so terribly many years ago, when the young man who invested his hard-earned cash in what was known as a best-girl buggy got some mention in the home paper. His purchase was chronicled with the added advice of, "Look out, girls!" With red running gears, rubber tires, a tassel on the horse's bridle, and a whip that cost at least $1.25, this young man was so well equipped that he was a force to reckon with when love-making was going on.

He has passed, and in his stead has come the long, low, rakish motorcar. It burns gasoline and leaves an unpleasant odor in its wake, but it represents speed and exclusiveness. It is the chummy roadster. Too soon, it seems, it also will pass away. In a New York newspaper is the advertisement of an aircraft concern. "What about the boy who overseas has been running the sky, day after day, flying free in the glorious ether?" it wants to know. When he comes home, the advertisement says, he will not be satisfied with a motorboat or an automobile. "So why not meet the inevitable," it asks, "and buy him an airplane now?" Now that the stress of war-time production is over, this particular concern is offering flying boats, seaplanes and chummy flyabouts for commercial or pleasure purposes. "An appropriate gift for your son or daughter," is the concluding sentence.

PIGS AS MACHINE GUNNERS

Shrewd Trick Played by Germans When They Fled Before the Conquering American Troops.

The crafty Germans resorted to all sorts of tricks to check the advance of the Yankees in the fighting just before the armistice was signed, according to a letter from Sergt. Sidney S. Foy, formerly of Detroit, Mich., now attached to a headquarters company in a classification camp in France, to a friend in the Michigan city.

Foy writes that pigs were numerous during the advance and that the Germans used them to help in putting Yankees out of action. When the Huns were forced to retreat they would tie a pig by the leg to the trigger of a machine gun. When the Yanks would charge, the pig, becoming frightened, would squeal and tug to free itself. Every tug the pig made a shot was fired at the waves of oncoming American troops, and, of course, some of them were hit.

This was only one of the ruses adopted by the Germans, says Foy, and the Yankees had to use the utmost caution in going over the ground evacuated by the Germans.

Packers' By-Products.

The by-products obtained in the packing house industry may be divided into two classes—the edible and the inedible. The inedible constitute the external covering (hair, horns, hoofs and hides), some of the offal and the bones. From these are prepared a great variety of substances, some of which have developed into enormous industries in themselves, such as leather, soap, glue and fertilizer. The last mentioned represents the ultimate utilization of packing house waste. For example, in the manufacture of buttons, combs, knife handles and spatulas from the horns and hoofs of cattle and sheep and the hoofs of hogs the waste resulting from the preparation of these articles was at one time thrown away, but it has been found that by treating such material with sulphuric acid, the nitrogen which it contains becomes available as a fertilizer.

Tanks May Tow Barges.

When the swords are beaten into plowshares, what is to happen to the tanks? Many people must have asked themselves this question, and C. J. Aubertain's recent article in the London News suggests an answer, for with slight modifications the "whippets," at any rate, might well be used as tractors on the towpaths of our reconstructed state canals. The French government, I am told, observes a writer in the Edinburgh Scotsman, has made experiments already in this very direction and has found that a light tank is capable of hauling four fully laden barges at a speed of two miles an hour, which is about twice that of a horse. Mechanical traction has been employed on some of the German canals for some considerable time.

Immunity in a Mule.

An Alabama doughboy had trouble galore with a mule.

"Ah just couldn't take any interest in dat mule. The others were all right. Dis one first crack outa de box, done bit mah finger. Den, while Ah'm 'zaminin' mah finger he ups an' kicks me in de pants. Den dose hush Germans started a gas attack.

"Ah was s'posed to put gas masks on dem mules an' den on me. Ah put masks on two of dem.

"Den I led dis ornery one around in dat gas foah two hours, an' dog mah cats, nothin' ever happened to dat mule a tall!"

Campaign Against Coyotes.

Coyote hunts are popular in the vicinity of Edmonton, Alberta, the last hunt attracting many automobilists as well as horsemen. Ranchers are planning to continue the campaign of extermination. Twenty-five wolf hounds have been obtained for these drives. The plan is to form a half circle and close in on the coyotes at a river bank.

Corns, Calluses Quit Quick!

Two Drops of "Gets-It" Will Do It.

Ever hand-carve your toe with a knife trying to get rid of a corn? Ever use scissors and snip off part of the corn too close to the quick?

"Gets-It" Puts Your Feet in Clover —It Ends Corns Quickly.

Ever pack up your toe with "contraptions" and plasters as though you were packing a glass vase for parcel post? Ever use greasy ointments that rub off on your stocking? Ever use sticky tape that gets jerked off when you pull your stocking off? Kind o' foolish, when 2 or 3 drops of "Gets-It" on any corn or callus gives it a quick, painless, peaceful, dead-sure funeral! Why putter and suffer? "Gets-It" stops corn pains, it lets you work, smile and dance, even with corns. It's the common-sense way, the only simple, easy way—peels corns off like a banana peel. Used by millions. It never fails. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.
